Company Profile

Zhuhai Luoqi Biotechnology Co., Ltd. was founded in 2025. Built on the professional expertise of a pharmaceutical research team, the company takes modern skin science as its core approach. We address skin physiological concerns through rigorous research, and respond to users' emotional needs with sincerity and restraint. Our goal is to bring skincare back to its essence—scientific, safe, effective, and nurturing.

Unlike pharmaceutical cosmetics that rely on a single pharma background, or ordinary skincare brands with limited professional depth, we are committed to a dual professional foundation— [pharmaceutical R&D standards + skin science system]—building a brand that is traceable in research, credible in expertise, precise in efficacy, and quietly premium.

From raw material sourcing and formula design to production and final inspection, every step follows pharmaceutical-grade quality control standards and cosmetic safety regulations—ensuring each product is safe, stable, gentle, and effective.

Brand Concept

Research, Professionalism, Safety, Precision

The Skin Barrier Comes First

All R&D starts with protecting, repairing, and strengthening the barrier—guarding against damage to the stratum corneum and disruption of the sebum film

Skin Type Compatibility as the Foundation

Formulas follow precise adaptation, layered repair, and customized logic—no one-size-fits-all approach.

Long-Term Stability as the Goal

Maintaining healthy stability, enhancing self-healing capacity, and reducing external damage—rather than short-term alteration or depleting health.

Moderate and Effective as the Principle

Balancing efficacy with mildness—avoiding irritation, intolerance, and repeated sensitivity.
